B. Reading Comprehension (16 Ms)

Read the following passage carefully then answer the questions below:

A Japanese Professor has produced evidence to show that computer games can have a bad effect on children. Many parents and grandparents have been saying this for years, but they were largely ignored, being regarded as technophobes. Parental worries about computer games often relate to their effect on children's health and on their own social skills. Their eyesight might get worse because they always stare at the computer. It may be at risk of gaining extra weight due to the lack of daily exercise. Parents feel that they should be outdoors enjoying the fresh air while playing with their friends. Since many of them play by themselves, they live rather isolated lives, with little opportunity to interact with other people. As a result, they may be very poor at communication. Parents are also worried in case the violence of many of the games will cause their children to become more aggressive and violent themselves. This anxiety also applies to television , which often shows scenes of extreme cruelty.

On the other hand, according to many researches playing computer games may not be all that bad for children. If parents choose the right computer games, children may learn better problem solving skills. Also they can develop the ability to think fast. The skills they gained from playing computer games may help them learn quickly when it comes to their studies.

a. Choose the correct answer from a, b, c and d:- (6x 2=12 Ms)

B) Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)Read the following passage carefully then answer the questions below:

Ice cream is a sweet frozen food eaten as a snack or dessert. It is usually made from dairy products, such as milk and cream, and often combined with fruits and other flavours. Ice cream is one of the most popular desserts in the world. Over four billion gallons are consumed each year worldwide. Although many people enjoy this frozen dessert, not too many people know its history.

Eating frozen sweets started about two thousand years ago. In ancient Italy and China, ice was mixed with fruit or fruit juice. In ancient Rome, the Emperor Nero had snow brought down from the mountains and mixed with fruit.

The Arabs were the first people to add milk to frozen desserts. Instead of fruit juice, they added sugar. But sugar wasn't the only thing added. They also added dried fruits and nuts. As early as 1,000 years ago, ice cream could be found in Baghdad, Damascus and Cairo.

In the sixteenth century, a famous Italian princess brought ice cream to France. A hundred years later, in the seventeenth century, ice cream appeared in England. In the 1870's, a German engineer invented the freezer. This is when ice cream started to spread all over the world because it could be more easily made and transported.

These days the number of different flavours available is over 1,000. Frozen desserts have been around for a long time and will most likely be enjoyed well into the future.
