The harp is one of the oldest musical instruments. It is thought to be 5.000 years old. The earliest harps were found in Sumeria in 2.800 BC and were called the lyre or lyre-harp.

The word "harp" means" to pluck" .This name was given to the instrument because it has strings which are plucked with fingers to make music. There are three basic kinds of harps- bowed, angled and framed. Most harps are played with fingertips. Some are played with the finger-nail .A harp has two arms .They are connected by a third piece at the top ,called the crossbar .The strings run from the top to the bottom and join at the crossbar.

The Sumerians held the harp vertically or straight. The Egyptians played it with the crossbar pointing away from their bodies. The Greeks believed that the first harp was made from the shells of a tortoise .In modern times ,the harp is still played in Africa and Siberia.
